

Sierra Madre Unharmed By Great Earth Shock Is Haven For Fear Stricken

No Casualties, No Damage, People Get Word Of Disaster From Outside

UNHARMED by the earthquake that brought death and disaster to many communities in the Long Beach area, Sierra Madre was quick to mobilize its citizens and resources to relieve suffering and want and to help preserve order in the stricken communities.

This city suffered only a bad case of fright. Not a single citizen was injured nor a house damaged even to the extent of a broken pane of glass. Nor were

School Bill Denounced As Un-American

Trustees Here Plan Mass Meeting To Protest The Vicious Ripper Measure

Resolutions vigorously assailing a bill before the Legislature that would arbitrarily annex Sierra Madre to the Pasadena high school district were adopted at a meeting of the local school trustees last night, when arrangements were made for a mass meeting here to give the citizens and taxpayers an opportunity to express themselves on the subject.

State-wide in its effect the measure is known as Assembly Bill 897 and it has stirred up a hornet's nest of opposition because of its ripper tendencies and the fact that it would remove all vestige of home rule in the school affairs of the small school districts that would be absorbed by the larger units.

Under the bill's provisions the communities to lose control of their school systems would have no voice in the consolidations. The mergers would just automatically occur within 60 days after the measure is approved by the Governor, under a provision of the proposed act that "within 60 days from and after the date on which this article takes effect, all elementary school districts of whatever kind or class, heretofore organized and existing, shall be merged and consolidated with and become part of existing high school districts."

Those few words would have the effect of ripping out of office the regularly elected school boards in approximately 3500 school districts in California, reducing the number of districts to the existing 400 high school districts, and giving the school authorities of the high school districts absolute control and supervision of the properties and affairs of the present elementary districts. The section of the bill establishing the high school districts reads as follows:

"Every high school district . . . existing when this article takes effect . . . shall constitute a school district and shall comprise and embrace all elementary school districts of whatever kind or class merged and consolidated with such high school district."

The measure would turn into the Pasadena high school district this city's new grammar school, but the school district as constituted at the time the building was erected would not be relieved of payment of its cost. Though obliged to pay off the bonds issued for the school construction, the local citizens would have no voice on the school board when the consolidation became effective. Nor would Sierra Madre, being much smaller than Pasadena in population and voting strength, ever be likely to get a member on the school board to voice its needs.

Bill 897, also known as the Feigenbaum bill because it was presented by Representative Feigenbaum, is sponsored by the California State Chamber of Commerce as an economy measure, its announced purpose being to reduce school operating costs throughout the State and prevent duplication of effort and expense.

In the resolutions adopted by the local school board the measure is referred to as "vicious and un-American and not in the best interest of the children or the taxpayers" and as "paving the way for graft, corruption, extravagance and favoritism in school management" with the probability of increased school costs ultimately.

President Rudolph Hartman of the local trustees was directed to arrange the mass meeting of local citizens which will probably be held during the week of March 27.

There was a large outpouring of citizens at a meeting in San Marino on Tuesday night, the adjoining city being greatly exercised over the prospect of being forcibly annexed into the South Pasadena High School district. A curious phase of the situation as relating to San Marino was pointed out—that the assessable valuation of San Marino is greater than that of the district to which San Marino would be attached.

the many relatives and close friends of local residents among the casualties in the stricken communities, so far as can be learned, though there was great anxiety on this score as alarming bulletins were being sent out from Long Beach and other stricken towns and as the earth continued to quiver at intervals for 48 hours after the first tremor. Many of the minor shakes of considerable intensity in the devastated sections and even in parts of Los Angeles and in the Western San Gabriel Valley were scarcely noticeable here or not felt at all.

Until the radio, telephone and telegraph began to bring in news of the disaster in the beach towns Sierra Madreans were not even alarmed since there was no apparent damage in their own city.

It was not until stories of a great loss of life—much exaggerated at the time—began to filter through was much concern felt here. Folks congregated in little groups on the street and agreed that it had been "a terrible shake" and expressed wonder that no damage had been done.

But they were not scared—merely congratulating themselves on the fact that they had passed safely through a great experience. The writer, for instance, heard several people in the business section call out to S. R. G. Twycross not to "walk on his heels and shake the buildings" as he strode across Kersting Court near the Pacific Electric station while the earth was rocking most violently. Twycross joined the general laugh that followed.

When it was realized that there had been a great disaster the telephone lines were soon clogged as calls were put in for the beach area and all sections of Southern California. Additional operators were quickly pressed into service, but persons unable to get service on their own lines rushed to the telephone office which was soon crowded. The Red Cross headquarters were quickly opened and crowded.

An hour after the quake a lot of the more nervous citizens had the jitters, while others gathered at the City Hall, Women's Club House, Legion headquarters and other places and calmly began to plan relief for the less fortunate in the stricken areas. In fact the city was so little affected that at 8 o'clock the auditorium at the school house was comfortably filled with an audience that seemed to get real enjoyment out of a minstrel show notwithstanding the sharp shakes during the performance.

Following arrival of summons for Legionnaires and the first aid crew of the fire department to hasten to Long Beach, distracted citizens from Long Beach began to arrive in search of safety and a little later machines started to bring in the injured from Long Beach and adjoining towns where the hospitals were quickly overtaxed. Those brought here were taken to Dr. George W. Groth's Sierra Madre Hospital. Many have since been sent to their homes. Among those treated were Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Roun, William C. Galbraith, Mrs. Lydia Rice, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Borden, Mrs. Valona Cain, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Bright and family, all of Long Beach; and Mrs. Rose Hill, visitor from Portland; Lester Soudadine, of Seattle; Clayton Hill, of Portland.

Immediately on official word from State headquarters Friday night Commander R. O. Calkin ordered the Legionnaires here into active service at Long Beach, and since that time the Post has been in constant duty and under what constitutes wartime discipline. More than nine details have alternated on guard duty, patrolling, general rehabilitation work, while C. W. Watson and Calkin Tuesday established a refuge camp at Monterey Park that has since been cited as most efficient of any of the emergency stations.

The active Legion workers, who have been on duty most of the time all week include George Lovejoy, Ligh R. Neff, Moe Alperin, Thomas W. Simons, A. H. Embree, Norman Jensen, R. O. Calkin, C. W. Watson, George Quittner, J. A. Irvine, Edward Hoevel, George M. Coble, Bull, Acting independently were Ben Stinman, Tom Schwartz, Roy Pickett, Sam Graham, George Haggood, Biely, Russell Cromwell, Ralph Stewart and George Otte.

Postpone Showing Barlow Pictures

The Women's Guild of Ascension Parish has decided to postpone the moving picture show which was to have been given by Mrs. W. Jarvis Barlow on Saturday evening in view of the calls upon Sierra Madre citizens for relief work. The films will probably be shown shortly after Easter.

Construction Of Second Race Track In Valley Begins

The probability that Joseph Smoot's Jockey Club and race track now under construction in Arcadia will have competition in the form of the Baldwin Park Jockey Club was foreseen this week as the latter organization broke ground for its mile-and-one-quarter track on a site three-quarters of a mile west of Baldwin Park. The cost will be approximately $440,000, a sum much less than it is contemplated will be spent on the Arcadia project.

City Quick To Forward Assistance

Red Cross Forms Central Committee For Relief Of Stricken Area

Within two hours after Friday's disaster the Sierra Madre Red Cross chapter was gathering together food, clothing and surgical supplies for the stricken beach area. The earth had scarcely ceased to tremble when, as the radio sent out word of the destruction in the Long Beach area, the local headquarters were opened and were soon crowded with local citizens anxious for news of friends and relatives in the stricken communities.

Women were detailed to the City Hall where they started making pneumonia jackets, some of which were on their way to Long Beach before 10 o'clock. Hundreds of telegrams and phone calls came in from the East inquiring generally whether Sierra Madre had been hit by the quake or specifically about the welfare of individuals. W. R. Humphries, former president of the organization, remained at the headquarters all night answering these inquiries and attempting to get information for local citizens concerning loved ones in the district where the damage was greatest.

After the comparative quiet of Sunday, the tremor of Monday morning, causing additional damage, showed the need of a community organization under one head to prevent duplication of effort and waste.

Mrs. Jessica H. Wright, chairman of the Disaster Committee of the Red Cross, called a meeting of the heads or representatives of all the local organizations it was possible to contact, at the City Hall at 10:30.

The need for thoroughly organized cooperative effort was explained and the plan heartily endorsed by all present. Mrs. Wright was chosen unanimously to head this community committee and promptly appointed committees to cover various activities. She explained that this committee should be a permanent stand-by organization with its committees continuous and with all information filed and kept up to date, so this city would be prepared to function 100 per cent during any increase of the present disaster and for all future disasters in this section. The meeting decided upon the policy of sending out further

RED CROSS ISSUES APPEAL TO HELP HOMELESS VICTIMS OF GREAT BEACH DISASTER

Through its chairman the local Red Cross Chapter has issued the following appeal to the people of Sierra Madre:

A terrible catastrophe has brought destruction and death to our near neighbors.

The American Red Cross is calling for funds for rehabilitation in the stricken areas; funds that will be needed for many purposes where Federal and State funds cannot be used.

Sierra Madre has been allotted a quota; she must and will do her share. No amount is too small . . . no amount is too large.

God has been good to Sierra Madre. Not even a pane of glass broken in this city while in our sister cities by the sea terror and ruin and death were abroad!

The sword of destruction did not strike here. We owe thanks!

Let our contributions be not only the outpourings of generous hearts, touched by the suffering of our fellow beings, but let them be a thank offering, showing the depth of our gratitude that we were spared.

Let every man and woman and child give something!

MARION W. VANNIER, Chairman, Sierra Madre Chapter, American Red Cross.

(Contributions will be received at Red Cross Headquarters or by the City Clerk.)

First Aiders Rushed Into Danger Zone

Local Firemen Called To Long Beach As Earth Rocked; Buildings Fell

Responding immediately to Red Cross orders to proceed to the earthquake area, the Sierra Madre First Aid Crew of the volunteer firemen rushed to the rescue station No. 11 in Long Beach at 11 p.m. Friday to take up a 36-hour emergency shift, during which first aid was administered to 75 victims of the beach city cataclysm.

Driving through fog that made it impossible to see more than a few feet of the road and difficult to tell at times whether the car was on a proper roadway or in an open field, Joe Swanson, crew captain, arrived in the stricken section at 12:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Lee Hibbs and Bob Babbitt made the hectic journey under a canvass on the back of the truck. Fire Chief W. D. Richards, Vernon Udell and George Norris followed in Richard's car.

Setting their disaster kit up in a tent outside the fire station, the firemen were in constant danger. The quakes continued throughout Friday night, and at one time much apprehension was felt when the brick chimney collapsed atop the fire building. While the men worked, giving aid to practically every type of injury imaginable, they saw the building across the street sway, saw the roof split as continued shocks weakened the structure. When work slackened somewhat Saturday morning, Swanson made a tour of the downtown areas, where the damage was greatest. Telling of the entire experience, he said:

"The downtown section was pretty bad. Many people were hysterical, and even those who weren't really seriously injured were suffering from shock. One woman we treated for a fractured leg refused to be taken to the hospital. She was afraid of the hospital falling on her. Every time we tried to take her away she would get hysterical. At last it was necessary to put

Exhibit Of Women Painters During The Wistaria Fete

The Women Painters of the West will open an exhibit today at the Little Art Gallery at the City Hall, it has been announced by Mrs. Fred Griebow, chairman. Many well-known artists are among those exhibiting and visitors to the Wistaria Fete will be welcomed at the showing.

Defer Celebration At Woman's Club

The birthday luncheon of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club, scheduled for Wednesday, was postponed indefinitely, according to Mrs. E. E. Bacon, chairman, due to local women helping in earthquake relief work.

There's big news for you in the advertising columns.

Echo Park Tennis Stars Here Sunday For Match Games

All preparations have been made by the Sierra Madre Tennis Association for the gala day of sport on the local tennis courts Sunday. Members of the Echo Park Tennis Club are planning to send a large representation of players and fans to meet players here in match play, and to attend the picnic lunch which will round out the day. Sponsors of the affair are Emile Smith and Bill Pyle, of this city, and Bob Chavis of Echo Park.

City's Fete Will Open At Noon Today

Celebrities Of The Southland To Dine Under Great Wistaria Vine

Disregarding overcast skies and the light drizzle that fell here yesterday, the volunteer firemen took as gospel the weatherman's prediction that there would be no rain today and with last minute preparations completed, awaited the big moment at noon today when the preview luncheon in honor of distinguished guests and prominent local citizens will officially open the 1933 Wistaria Fete and flower pageant in Sierra Madre.

Men and women from all over Southern California, well known for their work in professional, business and artistic fields, will gather under the fragrant blossoms of the giant Fenele vine, and the annual feast of natural color will be off to a start unequalled in the history of the fete. For already the statewide publicity given the event outweighs the entire season's bulk of any previous year, and a greater number of visitors than at any other time must surely be the result, the Fete managers predict.

For the first time since its inception the fete this year offers the added attraction of a varied floral exhibit as well as garden tours that will enable the visitors to see not only the widely advertised vine itself, but all of the hundreds of wistaria vines and scores of beautiful gardens that help make Sierra Madre the ideal home spot that it is.

In the Court of the Flowers, which is in reality the open air entrance hall to the Wistaria grounds, are rare and lovely exhibits of flowers and plants from nine nurseries and florists. The grand gateway, in contrast to the former turnstile, is wide, hospitably open to all, and thatched in rustic manner with palm leaves. Once inside the visitor may well imagine himself in some sub-tropical wonderland, for the flower booths and nooks that are scattered here and there for his convenience and gratification, are all painted and decorated in perfect harmony with the spirit of the Fete and the foothill country.

The garden tours, which are to be conducted at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, weekdays, under the auspices of the local Red Cross, will take in such fine estates and gardens as those of Miss Thomasella Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Isaacs, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Humphries, the Passionists Fathers Monastery Grounds, Mrs. Fred Hooker Jones, Dr. and Mrs. W. Jarvis Barlow, and Mrs. Gerald I. Farman.

Following is a list of the guest exhibitors that have contributed to the beauty of the Court of Flowers: Bassett and Washburn, Kentia Nurseries, 326 West Central avenue; Ward Nursery, Mt. Trail avenue; Coolidge Rare Plant Gardens, of Pasadena; Hagenburger Specimen Plant Gardens, West Los Angeles; Long's Water Gardens, Pasadena; and Star Nurseries, of Sierra Madre, Montebello and Los Angeles.

The United States Forest Service shows tree and shrub specimens. E. Waldo Ward presents a small orange exhibit and shows preserves made from Sierra Madre fruit.

Sunday a public address system truck will be located at the Fete grounds, and appropriate music such as "In a Monastery Garden" and "In a Persian Garden" will be broadcast to every part of the nearby hillside.

Christian Science Lecture On Sunday

"Scientific Christian Healing," will be the subject of Professor Hermann C. Hering, C.S.B., of Boston, Mass., at a free lecture to be given on Sunday, March 19, by the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Sierra Madre, at the Sierra Madre Grammar School auditorium. The lecture, to which the public is cordially invited, will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

On the occasion of Prof. Hering's last address here many residents of Los Angeles and Pasadena who had been unable to gain admission to his metropolitan lectures came here to hear him.

Business Jumps Here As Bank Holiday Ends And Jobless Find Employment

People Optimistic For Future As Accumulated Funds Pour Into Bank

CONFIDENT in the security of their home bank, Sierra Madreans endured the bank holiday uncomplainingly and its attendant inconvenience with rare good nature, but when the holiday was declared at an end and the Sierra Madre Savings Bank reopened for unlimited service Wednesday morning business at once jumped to somewhat above normal and a spirit of optimism and absolute cheerfulness was apparent everywhere. The whole town joshed and smiled and looked confidently forward to better things.

Reopening of the bank came co-incidental with an announcement that practically every able bodied man in Sierra Madre has been afforded at least part time employment during the last month, that 115 were given work in February on a payroll account of $3,415.17 and that the allotment for unemployed relief during the next 60 days would probably be considerably increased through an increased allocation of R.F.C. funds to the municipality.

The Sierra Madre Bank was one of the first institutions in Southern California outside the cities having clearing houses that was authorized to resume its complete, unlimited service in all departments. Anticipating such word the bank was ready for business at the scheduled hour and a few minutes later orders to resume were received by long distance telephone from the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco and confirmed by wire.

A few inquiring patrons quickly broadcast the news that they had been able to make deposits and have checks cashed without question. Within half an hour the bank lobby was filled with clients making deposits and cashing checks for their immediate requirements. The holiday was over and the inconvenience ended.

Throughout the day the rush of depositors continued and no one complained that they had been obliged to wait as they joshed with their friends and neighbors and chatted cheerfully about the future. Practically without exception a reporter that stood in the crowd for several hours heard conversations by

Hundreds In Wild Flight Arrive Here

Long Beach Citizens Seeking Safety Quickly Throng Canyon Park

Canyon Park, long known as "Little Long Beach," has been filled with residents from that and other cities in the quake zone since Friday's disaster. They began to arrive before midnight Friday, the advance guard being for the most part owners of canyon homes and cabins, and by Sunday evening it was estimated that there were more than 200 Long Beach residents there, in addition to friends and relatives of local residents who were quartered in other sections of the city. Seventy local property owners and regular visitors were among the arrivals, the others being friends and relatives who were brought along out of the danger zone while the earth was still rocking at the beach.

The Sierra Madre hotel has been filled to the limit of its capacity since Friday evening and many persons came for safety who had neither friends or relatives here. Many of them were sheltered and cared for by local families. Twenty-three such persons on Tuesday authorized Mrs. C. Dunn of 732 Molino avenue, Long Beach, to express their gratitude to local residents including Miss Veronica Neck, Mrs. C. Bodine, Mrs. A. B. Platte, and Mrs. Farrell and W. A. Evans who cared for 18 refugees at his West Montecito avenue home.

By flying trips to the stricken area and through the Red Cross, local families kept in touch with friends and relatives who did not come here.

Mrs. Mary Hoagland, former resident, now a resident of Long Beach, was brought to Dr. M. H. A. Peterson on Saturday morning for treatment. Mr. Hoagland suffered a fracture of her right hip, when the brick fireplace at her home collapsed upon her. She was taken by Dr. Peterson to the Pasadena Hospital. Mrs. Hoagland is 84 years of age and formerly resided on Esperanza avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Tractsell with their daughters, Miss Ruth Tractsell and Mrs. J. H. Hawkins, Little Joyce Hawkins and Mr. Hawkins, of Long Beach, are spending sometime at their Canyon Park home, 161 Vista Circle Drive. Their home in Long Beach persons with a new note of optimism for the future. Reports from the clearing house yesterday showed deposits here had been somewhat more than three to one above withdrawals.

Local merchants who are putting themselves in the way of this optimism and opportunity say they have already felt a perceptible uptrend that they feel is bound to continue and that the community will advance in proportion to a realization of the idea that as the communities build up, there will be a general return to normalcy in the State and Nation.

Ask People To Meet With Unemployed

Aims And Barter System To Be Shown Public Here Tuesday Evening

So that they may get first hand information on plans of the unemployed of this city and of the San Gabriel Valley to help themselves, the people of Sierra Madre have been invited to attend a mass meeting in the auditorium of the Congregational Church at 8 o'clock next Tuesday evening. Dean Arnold Bode will preside and there will be a detailed explanation of the work that has been undertaken and the barter system that is being successfully carried through.

Every organization in the city has been invited to send official representatives to the meeting which will also be attended by members of the advisory board of the San Gabriel Valley Unemployed Relief Association and representatives of each of the 22 relief units in the valley. Admittedly the meeting is an invitation for the public's cooperation, the association wishing to inform the public of its workings so that it will understand how it can cooperate. The program will include entertainment by the Sierra Madre Hillbillies and by various individual entertainers from this city, Pasadena, El Monte and other valley towns.

That the chief purpose of the advisory board of the San Gabriel Valley Unemployed Relief area is to establish a close coordination between the unemployed associations and the leading business men and city officials of the area communities was emphasized at the first board meeting which took place in the Sierra Madre City Hall last Thursday.

The board, composed of two prominent delegates from each of 22 valley and foothill cities, made known that in no way wishes to assume the slightest dictatorial authority, that it will work toward the end of establishing an influential communication between the relief associations and the various State, county, and Federal headquarters. Recognizing the fact that for best results in aiding the jobless, there must be, as near as possible, perfect cooperation between all district unemployed units, as well as between the incorporated units and the many cities, the Board dedicated itself to the task of aiding such cooperation.

Economic Subject To Be Discussed In Parish House Talk

Dean Bode's lecture on "Australia, Social and Governmental," last Monday evening at the Parish House of the Church of the Ascension doubled the previous attendance, and was received with keen interest and appreciation.

Next Monday at 8 p.m. the lecture will be given by Dr. Webster Vannier on the subject of a "National Minimum." Dr. Webster has his Ph. D. degree from the University of California and has made a deep study of social and economic questions. The lectures are free and open to the public.

Forum To Discuss The Bank Holiday

A public Forum meeting, open to a general discussion of the banking situation, is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock next Tuesday night in the City Hall. John P. Schaffer, professor of economics and chairman of the banking and finance departments at the University of Southern California, will be the chief guest speaker. Having been for four years chairman of the San Francisco Stock Exchange, Professor Schaffer is expected to present many stimulating and thought provoking ideas.

Hot Lead

By Norman B. Jensen

THE U. S. Veterans' Hospital at San Fernando was visited by a group of Legionnaires and ladies of the Auxiliary Unit from Sierra Madre. Books, magazines, cob pipes, tobacco, gum and jellies were taken over for comrades who are confined to the hospital who do not draw government compensation. About 20 pounds of silk stockings supplied by the Auxiliary Unit will be used by disabled men for weaving. Comparatively, Sierra Madre post made an excellent showing. Expressions of appreciation from the Hospital Post were very pleasing to the delegates from our local Post and Unit.

Veterans of the Spanish American War were honored guests at our last post meeting. Comrades Ort, Bull, Holliday and Al Myers gave brief outlines of their activities during the war of 1898 and '99. Following an expression of comradeship and devotion to a single cause by Comrade Al S. Myers, was an outline story by our Comrade Colonel Hersey.

"The Spanish American War was in many ways unique and not appreciated," declared Colonel Hersey. He explained that this war was fought by an army of volunteers. Many of the men had seen service during 30 years of Indian wars but most of the officers and men had never seen a regiment together.

Yellow fever broke out in the camps and during this campaign it was discovered that this fever was the direct result of mosquito bites. Separate barracks were built where volunteers from the ranks experimented to ascertain the cause and cure of yellow fever. Many of those brave self-sacrificing men lost their lives in those experimental barracks so that the others might live to carry on the war.

When the war was over, General Wood was made Governor of the Philippine Islands and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt came home to the United States. Then Colonel Hersey was put in command and later brought his troops home.

General "Joe" Wheeler and "Teddy" Roosevelt sat at the Headquarters' mess table with Colonel Hersey, who expressed his appreciation of the magnetic character of those two great Americans.

"Experience gained in the Spanish American War made it possible to handle troops and transports during the World War," Colonel Hersey declared.

Comrade Art Embree announced that special arrangements were being made to honor the G.A.R. veterans during the next Memorial Day celebrations. He also gave a complete report on the activities of the Los Angeles County Council Legion meeting of March 3rd which was attended by the Post delegates.

The presence of many visitors who expressed their desire of affiliating themselves with Sierra Madre Post was enjoyed by the comrades who gave them a hearty welcome.

Comrade Waverly E. Pratt, at-

CHURCH WOMEN HOLD FOOD SALE TOMORROW

Mrs. Nestor Young's section of the Woman's Society of the Congregational Church, is sponsoring a cooked food sale tomorrow at Robert's Market, East Central avenue. A variety of staple and fancy foods will be available to the housewives of Sierra Madre for Saturday night and Sunday dinners.

HEALTH AIDS

DR. MARTIN J. KARTOFF

ANY unnatural retention of food wastes within the intestinal canal or delayed movement of your food through any portion of portions of the digestive apparatus means constipation. The resultant stagnation, fermentation, and decay of foods, is followed by toxic absorption or taking up into the system of greater quantities of poisonous waste materials than can be effectively neutralized by the organs whose duty it is to convert these materials into products as harmless as possible to the tissues of the body. Such blood pollution inevitably leads to an endless chain of diseases and its symptoms.

Constipation has correctly been termed the "curse of modern civilization" for it is held responsible for over 90 per cent of human ailments, and is a filthy internal condition of the human body that is inexcusable and can not and must not be tolerated by any person with a proper sense of either health or cleanliness.

For good health, food outgo should equal food intake, therefore the strictly natural law governing intestinal eliminations requires from one to three waste discharges every 24 hours. From a study of time required for complete digestion and assimilation of average foods and from my experience in practice, I have come to the conclusion that if we are to enjoy health to its fullest extent it is essential that we have a minimum of two eliminations daily. That is one in the morning and one in the evening. Any deviation from this means constipation.

Dr. Kartoff will answer health questions addressed to him in care of this column.

tended the District Baseball caucus last week at Arcadia. He announced that night ball practice would start immediately at the school grounds and that April 21st had been selected as the time for the first league game. The opposing team will be announced later. Come out and practice Tuesday and Fridays at 5 p.m.

Superior Court Judge B. Ray Schauer was another distinguished guest Monday night. He came especially to invite Post 297 to come and bring the ladies to a (positively) free dinner and evening of entertainment and comradeship the night of Wednesday, March 29th, at 6:30 p.m. The Elks Lodge is giving this to the Legion and there are no strings tied to it. The place is the Elks Temple at West Lake Park.

"Carry On"

Old West Featured In Entertainment For PTA Milk Fund

The West in picture and song will be presented next Tuesday evening, March 21, at 7:30 o'clock in the Grammar School Auditorium, by Elmer Gandy as a benefit for the milk fund of the Parent-Teachers Association. The concert of true western songs, including "Little Grey Home in the West," "Home on the Range," and "Trees," will be illustrated with typical western landscape. Mrs. Loretta Hobson Gandy, soprano soloist and accompanist of radio and concert reputation, will assist Mr. Gandy with the program.

The local Parent-Teachers Association was represented on Tuesday at a meeting of the moving picture chairmen at the Board of Education, Pasadena by Mrs. Boyd Keith. The association will have charge of a candy booth at the Wistaria Fete, which will open today. Members will be hostesses on P.T.A. Day, March 31.

In A Social Way

A "Maggie and Jiggs" partner march to the supper tables downstairs from the ladies' and men's parlors of the Congregational Church, concluded the St. Patrick's party Monday night at which the Friendship Club entertained their husbands. The supper tables presented a festive air, all "St. Patricked up" with tall green tapers and the traditional green pigs, potatoes, snakes and hand-painted individual conundrum favors—all reminiscent of old Erin. The decorations were in charge of Mrs. Osterhout and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman, assisted by Mrs. Miles.

During the supper program hour Mrs. Ben Stinman, president of the club, presided. Dr. A. O.

A MOTHER'S PRAYER

On the battle field, Father,
Guard my boy, I pray
Be with him each moment
Along the trying way.
Give him strength and courage
Though the fight be long
When the cruel war is over
Bring him safely home.

Bring him safely home, Father
When the battle's done
When the victory's won, Father
Bring him safely home.
There amid the conflict—
There amid the storm—
Everlasting arms enfold him,
Bring him safely home.

On the battle field, Father,
From its storm apart,
Mid the tempest, sleeping
There lies a silent heart.
Oh, Thou blessed Spirit,
Hear me now, I pray—
In Thine arms of love enfold him,
Bear his soul away.

Bear him safely home, Father,
For war him is done
Victory is won, Father,
Bear him safely home.
Rest, amid the conflict
Peace, amid the storm
Everlasting arms enfold him
Bear him safely home.

Earthquake Dinner Guests Dine Out Of Cans, On Benches

An "Earthquake Dinner," honoring Mrs. Irvin Edward Carpenter of San Pedro, daughter of Mrs. Bertha B. Miller, was given on Monday evening by Mrs. Miller at her home, 439 Mariposa avenue. Dinner was served from cans, handleless cups, paper plates, etc. Benches were used instead of chairs. Guests included Miss Cora Shattuck of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Domschke, Charles Daniel and Mrs. Carpenter.

The delicious supper was in charge of Mrs. William Middough, assisted by Mrs. John Colbert, and Mrs. Al S. Myers who made the unique miniature mint flavored "pratties" which filled the individual cunning candy cups resembling wee clay pipes, made by the clever fingers of Mrs. Kene-fick.

The next regular meeting will be held on the second Monday evening of April.
A miscellaneous shower, honoring Miss Aveline Corneth, whose marriage to Jack Cowan, Jr., was solemnized on Saturday, was given recently by Miss Justine Picton and Miss Alice Carpenter at the home of the former. Games were played and refreshments served. The honoree was presented with many useful gifts.

Among those present were Misses Celeste Nuccio, Thelma Jaeger, Grace Merriman, Tillie Carpenter and Marjorie Grippi; Mrs. Bernice Daily, Mrs. Emma Livingston, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Noshier and Mrs. Picton.

Miss Thomasella H. Graham entertained with a waffle luncheon on Thursday at her beautiful home, "Italia Mia." Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hunt and Judge Hunt, of New York, and W. K. Jewett of Pasadena.

Mrs. Ora Caskey, of 93 West Laurel avenue, entertained at dinner on Sunday. Among the guests were Mrs. Fred Douse and family, Mrs. M. Graham and Miss Alice Graham, of Los Angeles.

The wedding of Miss Aveline Corneth and John Cowan, Jr., of the U. S. Utah, was solemnized at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. C. D. Shields, 282 Santa Anita Court, on Saturday evening. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Patterson, of Pasadena.

The bride was gown in white and carried a bouquet of rosebuds. She was given in marriage by her father, Henry Corneth, of Los Angeles. Thurman Corneth, brother of the bride, was best man, and Miss Grace Merriman, of Pasadena, attended the bride. Miss Celeste Nuccio, of San Marino, played the wedding march. A buffet supper was served and dancing followed. Guests present of Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War, at the home of its president, Mrs. Mary A. Wam-mock, 258 East Central avenue. The breakfast table was lovely with a center piece of yellow daffodils, a handmade Chinese cloth and green dishes. Fortunes were read for each present by Mrs. John W. Tyree, one of the guests. The morning was spent making St. Patrick's favors for the party given by the local Louise Severance Tent, No. 65, on Thursday afternoon. Nine committee workers were present.

ZULU MOTHERS TOPIC AT TUESDAY MEETING

A meeting of the Missionary Society of the Congregational Church will be held Tuesday, March 21, at the church. Prayer circle, led by Miss Harriette Grant, will start at 11:45, and luncheon will be served at 12:30. Mrs. Amy B. Cowles, who has spent some time in South Africa, will be the speaker, her subject being "Zulu Mothers." Mrs. W. D. Tedford will be chairman for the day. Reservations may be made by phoning Dr. Brady at 191-1. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Famed Foreign Architect Tells Kiwanis Much To Be Thankful For Here

A. H. Morgan, noted architect, and native of Scotland, told the Kiwanis Club at its Tuesday luncheon that the United States, populated as it is with energetic and ingenious peoples, has positively no reason to be in its present economic situation and that, inevitably, it cannot long continue.

Mr. Morgan made comparisons between this country and those of the Old World, pointing out that the American high wage scale has done much to force up wages the world over, and that there was every reason for great happiness here, in spite of the temporary let down in business and employment.

For 30 years the chief architect of the King and Queen of Spain, Mr. Morgan was also the designer and builder of the famous Queen Victoria Garden City, which is located near Seville, in Spain. Other buildings he has built are the Mary Slessor Memorial Hospital in the British tropics in Nigeria, the Scotland Military Institute and the National Reserve Headquarters in Edinburgh.

W. J. Lawless, Kiwanis president, announced that next week's meeting will be held on the grounds of the Wistaria Fete, as is customary at this time every year.

ROSS FIELD BILL IS NOT YET PASSED

Ross Field, former balloon school, property in Arcadia, has not yet been transferred to county control. It became known as Representative Hoepfell of Arcadia, communicated with the Board of Supervisors advising them: "In my eagerness to advise you on the transfer of Ross Field to the county I accepted a statement that the bill affecting the transfer had been passed by the Senate. I am sorry for this misinformation."

BETHANY CHURCH TO HOLD ANNUAL SUPPER

The annual supper of Bethany Church is being planned for next Friday, March 24. Eleventh annual Newspaper Day is to be held at the University of Southern California tomorrow, March 18. Hundreds of student journalists will represent high school and junior colleges of the Southwest, and will witness the awarding of the Crombie Allen Plaque and the two Trojan Trophy Plaques to the best school papers in Southern California at a midday luncheon session to be held in the Student Union.

Publishers and editors of metropolitan dailies and weeklies in the Southwest will be guest speakers at morning, noon, and afternoon programs.

Conferences for student editors and managers of dailies, weeklies, monthlies, and yearbooks will be held, and discussion sessions are scheduled to deal with news, editorials, features, sports, society.

Fire Flames

By one of the boys

NEVER-TO-BE-FORGOTTEN
Last Friday night was our regular meeting night but it was with great difficulty that the members carried on the business. All through the meeting, the Long Beach situation, kept creeping into the conversations. Anxious for a call to assist, the firemen impatiently awaited the summons. Mayor Reavis, City Clerk Pratt and Officer Gerlach made a flying trip to Long Beach and at near midnight they returned with word to send our First Aid Crew to the devastated district. Immediately Captain Swanson gathered up his men and with the First Aid truck, departed for Long Beach with Chief Richards. On Saturday evening, Frank Lovell, Roy Walsworth and Marion Hayes went there to take the places of the others who had been on duty since the first call. They were released as not further necessary on Sunday morning.

Steve Petsel arrived early at the Wistaria Grounds in preparation for a long day's work on Sunday. 'Twas long before he had any assistance. Later in the day, he was bothered by many, but he had the greater part of the work done. Everything is coming along fine up there and really looks great. The new idea of an entrance is panning out much better than anticipated. There are a lot of nails hammered in the wood work and there will be the same number to be pulled out.

The blossoms are coming out fine and this year we won't have to apologize for Mother Nature. The old familiar back leg ache will soon be popular and the familiar sound of "Park, Park" will be heard from Sierra Madre to New York. All the firemen are now familiar with the care of babies and dogs. Harlan Gerlach is now practicing the care of baby chicks in case someone leaves their chickens in care of the parking lot.

Judge Neale and Chief of Police McMillan went on a northern fishing trip and rented a row boat to scour the deep regions of the lake. Luckily, they found a good spot and when noon came their appetites overcame their love for fishing, so they came in to shore for lunch. "Did you mark the place we were fishing?" asked the Judge of Mac. "Your darned right I did," answered Mac. "I put a chalk mark on the side of the boat." "Are you dumb!" exclaimed the Judge. "We may not get the same boat after lunch." So they ate heartily.

Local Sports Paragraphs

By John Copeland

EARTHQUAKES having temporarily stopped Legion baseball practice and generally squashed interest in athletic amusement, we turn again to the files, which were obligingly shaken loose by the tremblers. And here's the result:

Along about November, 1907, when incidentally there was bank trouble and penny postcards and Teddy Roosevelt and earthquakes too, THE NEWS was grinding out sports. Among those present at a tennis party given by Jennie Lambert on Thanksgiving Day were Misses Carter, Blumer, Gladys Humphries, and Messrs. and Mesdames Hawxhurst, Camp and Webster.

A headline informs us that December 6, 1907, "a hoss falls over a dog and throws a young lady from cart." The young lady was Miss Gladys Humphries, who in want of better sport was driving her pony cart along Central avenue in front of the Sierra Madre Department Store. "... enjoying a drive in the exhilarating air of a Southern California autumn eve..."

"Miss Gladys was accompanied by her dog, which ran in front of her horse, getting under its feet in such a way as to throw the animal. As the horse fell, one of the thills (!!) stuck in the ground, stopping the cart at once and throwing the young lady over the dashboard. She alighted on the horse (either by grace of the reporter, or because there was no other means of alighting), which made no struggle, and was released and gotten on its feet again. . . the only damage done being a broken thill. . ."

You figure it out. We can't.

In the olden days there were, believe you or nix, burro races. Listen to this: "It was a regular Derby Day crowd that turned out to see the burro racing Tuesday afternoon. And they saw some events that were about the classiest run in this vicinity for several blue moons."

"The principal race, in which there were 10 starters, was won by Vinton Hoegee, riding Light-foot (watta name for a jack), Ariel Hoegee was second on Teddy Roosevelt (it'd be Frank today). The prizes were $5 and $3 (golden days). . . The sprint from Baldwin avenue to Mountain Trail was really the speed event of the afternoon. After a trial in which an over enthusiastic curb Nibs and distracted his attention from the matter in hand, the three burros which placed in the big event were sent away to a fine start."

"It was here that Nibs showed his real speed. He had never been ridden until the day before the race, when he was 'broke' for the occasion. He had the speed but was embarrassed at being called upon to perform before company. With the crowd all gathered at the finish line Nibs was not shy in starting the sprint. . . There was the suggestion that Sierra Madre might have an annual fiesta, to be called 'Burro Day' or some other appropriate and distinctive name. . . Such a unique celebration would serve to advertise Sierra Madre far and wide." Yeh, especially when the wind was blowing just right.

Athletes were on deck April 10, 1908, as witness: "Interest in the great championship climb up the Mt. Wilson Trail for the Police Gazette medal continues to grow. . . Entries from all over Southern California were entered,

Duce's Bright Son

Vittorio, eldest son of Premier Mussolini of Italy, who at fourteen, is the editor of the paper at the school he attends. He is also said to have written the script for a motion picture soon to be produced.

and the medal was a huge five-piece affair that looked something like a special award granted by the Roman emperor to an African warrior, if any.

The fella who won the climb that year, one Joseph King, of San Francisco, turned a hand-spring at the finish, making the distance in one hour, 25 minutes, 30 seconds. A gentleman from Austria, Paul Reinwald, plodded along on bare feet until he was painfully cut and torn, then gave up and threatened to throw himself from the trail and into the canyon below. He declared himself disgraced by his poor showing and could see nothing worth living for. When somebody brought him new shoes and helped him back onto level ground his spirits revived.

All of which proves that sports had their emphasis then as well as now. Yes suh.

Going modern for a moment, we release excerpts from a series of training articles from Junior Pentathlon headquarters. The novice, or untrained youngster, must learn muscle coordination and obtain means of physical development at the same time he learns the all-important lesson of sportsmanship. To this end the Junior Pentathlon group works.

Stressing the importance of proper and supervised exercise in correcting muscular faults, we are presented with the case of Glenn Cunningham, who is tearing up indoor track records this winter and spring with his great mile runs. During his grammar school days, Cunningham's legs were so severely burned that he was not expected to walk again. Light walking exercises were given by doctors to rebuild the injured leg tissues. Later he took up running for purposes of further helping his crippled legs. Today he is ranked among the best distance men in the country.

Ben Eastman also is an example of a youth who had to work methodically and long to develop his thin legs to a point where he found strength to carry him to world's records and champion performances.

Apparently the earthquake gave the fish quite an appetite for catches reported from the big Olympic fishing barge reached a new high peak early this week. White fish, sculpin, halibut and mackerel topped the hauls. The Big Olympic, brought back to Hermosa, following a winter spent in drydock, is spick and span, shining with new paint from stem to stern.

Some Sierra Madre Folks Seem To Need Only Single Glove

There must be nine people in Sierra Madre that have been going through the winter with one cold hand to keep their hearts warm, and one warm hand to keep comfortable. Or anyhow that's the only reason we can find for the amazing array of nine single, absolutely matchless, gloves that litter the lost-and-found table in The News office window.

Only one of the absent minded glove owners has been kind enough to lose a mated pair, and that pair, alas, comes far from fitting either the printer's devil, the printer, the editor, the society reporter or the office boy. The remaining singles, for an inexplicable reason all southpaws, are of about as much worth to anyone as a left handed monkey wrench or an elevator to the City Hall roof garden.

So if any man, woman or child finds that they are minus one black, white, brown or neutral colored glove—let him or her hurry downtown and retrieve it while the patience of the gods that be continues to save same from the pitfalls or an incinerator or ashean.

AUTO RACERS WILL AID QUAKE VICTIMS

In an effort to aid the sufferers in the stricken quake areas, officials of the Legion Ascot Speedway have announced that children up to 16 years of age will be given a chance to help the cause and at the same time see Sunday's 150-lap auto race classic in which the country's greatest goggled stars will compete.

The plan is simple. Each boy and girl up to 16 years of age will be admitted to Sunday's races by bringing three cans of food-stuffs. All of the proceeds will be turned over to the American Red Cross for distribution in the stricken area.

The 150-lap race was postponed from last Sunday and will bring together, among others, Bob Carey, national champion, and Ernie Triplett, 1931-32 coast champion.

JESSIE LAFFRING DIES IN NEW JERSEY

Orange Agreement Readily Accepted By Most Growers

Expressing considerable optimism at the rapidity with which shippers are signing the Exchange orange agreement, Paul Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, reported at the weekly Exchange board meeting yesterday that many district had already signed up 100 per cent and that properly executed contracts had already been received from a large percentage of shippers.

"This is the agreement by which our shippers delegate authority to the Exchange board of directors to determine volume and prorate shipments of oranges, similar to the Exchange lemon agreement," said he. "We urge prompt action by shippers who have not yet acted upon this contract. As soon as we have favorable action by 90 per cent of the Exchange orange volume, we will be in position to immediately regulate and control Exchange orange shipments, including loose fruit, and to cooperate as a unit with others to that end."

Books Of The Hour Now Available For Library's Patrons

Two volumes dealing with the economic situation, "Danger in the Dark," by Chase and "Engineers and the Price System," by Veble, and one of the most comprehensive literary journals of all time, the first volume of "The Journal of Arnold Bennett," are among the many interesting books acquired by the Sierra Madre Public Library in the past month. The monthly report of Miss Eva Moore, librarian, shows that a gain of 110 registered borrowers has been made over February of last year, the total circulation being 4650 for the month. The new books are:

Fiction: Boat of Longing by Rolvaag; Last Adam, Cozzens; Provincial Lady in London, Delaford; Bachelor's Bounty, Richmond; Mr. Chilver's Daughters, Olivier; Fourth Lovely Lady, Benson; Danger in the Dark, Chase; Certain Dr. Thorndyke, Freeman.

Non-fiction: Sardinian Side Show by Posse-Brazdova; Pearls, Arms and Hashish, Monfred; Odyssey of Homer, Shaw; Footloose in India, Sinclair; Journal of Arnold Bennett, Bennett; Engineers and the Price System, Veble; Death in the Afternoon, Hemingway.

VALLEY CHAMBERS OF COMMERCE INVITED TO WISTARIA FETE

The following group, representing the local Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting and dinner of the Associated Chambers of Commerce on Tuesday evening at Claremont Inn: Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Billheimer, Woodson F. Jones, Clarence C. Hunt-singer, R. C. Copenhaver and Charles B. Klunk. The Associated Chambers of Commerce were extended an invitation to attend the Wistaria Fete on Chamber of Commerce Day, March 22. Dr. Charles K. Edmunds, speaker of the evening, gave an interesting talk on "The Giant and the Dwarf," referring to the powers of the Orient.

regular meeting of the A.L.A. The program was arranged by Leila Embree, Community Service Chairman. Each chairman of the various branches of A.L.A. service gave reports on work accomplished since they took office last fall.

Presidents of the local organizations were introduced and each spoke a few words, of good will and co-operation. The Red Cross was represented by Miss Marion L. Vannier. Miss Edna R. Green answered the call, as President of the Woman's Club. The Veterans of Foreign Wars had as its representative Mrs. Mary J. Neff. Mary Wammock, the Daughters of Union Veterans. President Ellen Pulling was present from the P.T.A. Mrs. Luella Walsworth was also present as the president of the Firemen's Auxiliary.

Visitors not members of the Legion Auxiliary always tell us, that they never realized the amount of work that is accomplished in the A.L.A. Folks not specially concerned in veteran service do not begin to grasp the immensity of this work until they come in contact with the actual work and reports. Many people have the idea that it is purely a social group. The main idea is "mutual helpfulness."

The social time last meeting was very hilarious. There was one group at the Northwest corner of the refreshment table that had lots of fun. This vicinity was bounded on one side by Mrs. Pulling and on the other by Edith Woodruff. The "Five Musketeers" so surrounded just couldn't cease their mirth!

The Elvas-Reavis and Layton—were our genial hostesses. And were they a great success—you should "ask." The tables arranged so attractively that some of the legion fellows were occupied in that famous indoor sport—"fishing for invitations to our meetings"—can you beat it! Mrs. Sylvia Quittner enjoyed everything so much—well, I'm sure she is going to join.

March 20 is the Party at San Fernando. Our share to make it go over is—candy. Call Mrs. Louise Roe, concerning donations.

Audience Is Calm While Earth Rocks

No Sign Of Fear As Tremblers Flicker Lights At Local Minstrel Show

Despite the excitement caused by earthquakes, a good sized audience turned out to witness the Black and White Minstrel show put on in the school auditorium Friday night by the Daughters of the British Empire as a benefit for the Red Cross.

It was a tribute to the level heads of local citizens, that although several minor tremors dimmed the lights momentarily in the course of the evening there was not the slightest sign of panic, and no one left before the final curtain.

Quite a few individual performances were well received and worthy of comment. Jack Young's impersonation of the Devil was effective, and the monologue, written by him, was good. Francis Eakman, singing Hallelujah, displayed more full vocal power than was possible in the more confined clubhouse auditorium two weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hawks, were excellent as always, in a skit written especially for the show by Dave Buchanan.

The surprise number of the evening was an original song composed by Dean Arnold G. Bode, "Noel," which was sung as a duet by Mrs. Hawks, contralto, and Mrs. Janet Wood, soprano. Both words and music were beautiful, and pleasantly surprised many who were unaware of Dean Bode's ability as a composer.

Mrs. H. P. Bledsoe sang a classical air in burlesque manner, and then gave a humorous number, "Knocking the L. out of Kelly." She was accompanied at the piano by Mr. Meader. Gags by Art Evans and Tom Henderson were clever, and many were timely concerning as they did the bank situation and the quake.

New Organization Of Camp Fire Girls Begins Activities

"Cin Ki Nun Ku" is the name of the Camp Fire Girls, recently organized here with Mrs. Harley Hogan as their leader. The name selected by the group means "We Desire to Grow" and with this in mind they launched their first enterprise, a sale of candy at the Parent-Teachers' Association moving picture show. The sum of $3.75 was raised for supplies. Mary Jane Clatworthy, Lois Lovell, Anna Sue Adwell and Norma Hogan, dressed in Colonial costumes, presided at the candy booth.

The group met last week for a social morning in Bailey Canyon. A treasure hunt, playettes and games were enjoyed. The local girls were represented at a celebration, honoring the 21st birthday of Camp Fire Girls, at Pasadena headquarters this week.

Lois Lovell is secretary of the organization; Mrs. Harley Hogan, treasurer, and Dorothy Linn, reporter. Following is a list of the members: Grace Jensen, Bettie Simmons, Betty Koon, Noreen Collins, Norma Hogan, Lois Pickett, Virginia Butts, Phyllis Quittner, Doris Bever, Peggy Norris, Minnie Roth, Dorothy Linn, Mildred Osterhout, Mary Jane Clatworthy, Shirley Shapiro, Lois Lovell, Betty Penn, Muriel Downs, Anna Sue Adwell, Norma Sexton, Ida Mae Barnes, Irene Dalzell, Betty Anderson, Georgine Perry, Charleen Norris, Nancy Reel and Jean Bradford.

WORLD TRAVELER SPEAKER AT OLD PEOPLE'S HOME
Guests at the British Old People's Home, Manzanita avenue, were taken on a trip around the world on Tuesday evening by A. Nielsen, "world traveler." A large collection of interesting pictures, taken by Mr. Nielsen, of almost every country and a great number of islands, was shown by Mr. Nielsen and his secretary. Refreshments were served following the travelogue to 24 persons.

Allow Discount On City's Water Bills Until March 22nd

You have until next Wednesday, March 22, to pay your water bill and retain the 25 cent discount privilege that ordinarily would have expired last Wednesday. The extra week of grace was given Sierra Madreans this month by the City Council only because of extraordinary conditions occasioned by the bank holiday and the Long Beach earthquake that affected many here, according to a statement issued by City Clerk Waverly Pratt yesterday afternoon.

TOP NOTCH FILMS AT THE LYRIC THEATRE

George Arliss, peer of English speaking actors, appears in his latest screen play, "The King's Vacation," at the Lyric Theatre in Monrovia tonight and Saturday March 17 and 18. On the same bill is "Face in the Sky," with Spencer Tracy, Stuart Erwin and Marion Nixon.

Tomorrow, Saturday, at 1:45 there is another big Junior matinee, at which six Mickey Mouse Dolls will be given away free, and the third episode of "Clancy of the Mounted" will be screened.

A three feature program is on hand Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, March 19, 20, and 21—Barbara Stanwyck in "Ladies They Talk About," "The Secret of Madame Blanche," a thrilling romance starring Irene Dunne, and Laurel and Hardy in "Their Latest Mistake."

City's First Aid Crew Rushed Into Beach Danger Zone

up a tent in her front yard, and help her as much as possible with shots in the arm.

"Our disaster kit, luckily, was absolutely efficient. There wasn't a single thing called for that we didn't have on hand... even castor oil..."

"Beside the cases we treated at the station, we had to make 12 outside calls, to people who could not be moved because they were too seriously hurt.

"It mustn't be imagined that in rushing to Long Beach we left the city of Sierra Madre unprotected. We didn't. There are 20 volunteer firemen on call here, and only a small proportion of that number went away. We took but one truck of the three on hand. So the city was adequately protected against any emergency that might have arisen in our absence.

"The experience we gained was very valuable, and fully repaid us for making the trip."

Each member of the rescue crew commented on the fact that as they neared the beach there was a continuous flow of automobiles, two abreast, speeding out of Long Beach, away from danger. Few cars were on the road headed toward the city. "It was a miracle," Swanson said, "that we didn't crack up on the way down there. Many cars were parked by the road, but we couldn't see any of them until nearly colliding with them. Besides, in places where the pavement had been split there were overlapping that made hazardous bumps in our way. There wasn't anything to do but spot the white line down the center of the road, and keep going."

Bob Babbitt in telling of his experiences, said: "It was surprising the way the kids down there took it. They were very brave... little tots came into the first aid tents with bad burns and broken arms and legs... without whimpering."

"The big shock at 5:55 here didn't compare with any one of the dozens of tremors that continued throughout the night in Long Beach. There was one house where I was repairing a broken pipe connection. The resident thought everything was over—he wanted to go back in the house—the shakes had been coming at pretty regular hour intervals... so I told him to stay out. Just then a shake came... and a piece of earth a yard in diameter buckled up under his feet and raised him off the surface of the ground, while across the street the front of a brick faced building fell forward, collapsed..."

"Talk about the San Francisco quake, this had it skinned. Of course up there the fire did considerable damage. But the quake alone was worse here... No one was sleeping in the house... everyone was camped out, cooking over open fires. It was hard to boil the water, but it had to be boiled for 20 minutes before it was fit to drink."

Frank Lovell, Marion Hayes and Roy Walsworth drove to the beach relief station Saturday night that the men who had been on duty continuously for so long a period might have rest.

First White Settler Here Passes Away

Levi Richardson; Former Rancher, Aged 84, Is Laid To Rest At Brea

Levi Richardson, member of the first known white family to settle on the spot that is now Sierra Madre, died at the age of 84 in Los Angeles last week. Funeral services were held in Los Angeles Friday morning, and interment was at the Loma Vista cemetery at Brea, in Orange county, the same day.

When Mr. Richardson came here with his mother and sister in 1875, the family established a ranch on property that included the present Cypress Court location, and not even the Carters nor the Baldwins had come here yet.

Absent from Sierra Madre during the past 25 years, Mr. Richardson was well known by all the old residents. While a resident here he engaged in running a small ranch, and did some prospecting in the back-country with E. M. Clark. His wife passed away at the couple's local home more than 30 years ago. He is survived by a son, Edmund Richardson, who is employed by the Shell Oil company in Long Beach.

Mrs. M. Timberlake Passes On Here At Home Of Daughter

Mrs. Matilda Timberlake, mother of Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, of 501 Mariposa avenue, passed away at the home of her daughter on Friday evening, after a lingering illness. She was born July 8, 1861, in Cincinnati, Ohio, and has been a resident of California for the past 15 years. Mrs. Timberlake, whose home was in Los Angeles, had been staying with her daughter for the past two months.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Steinberger, of Sierra Madre, and Mrs. H. M. Pease, of London, England; one son, Thomas C. Timberlake, of Los Angeles, and a grandson, Wallace R. Hohnbeck, of Los Angeles.

Dean A. G. H. Bode officiated at the Episcopal funeral services, held on Monday morning at 10 o'clock from the Grant Funeral Parlors. Mrs. Donald Ashmore, accompanied by Mrs. George B. Morgridge, was soloist. Interment was at Hollywood Cemetery.

DAUGHTER OF LOCAL FOLKS INTERVIEWS LEADERS IN GERMANY

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Calkin, of 497 West Grand View avenue, of the arrival of their daughter, Mrs. Stephen Brunauer, in Berlin, Germany. Mrs. Brunauer, international secretary of the American Association of University Women, and holder of a doctor of history degree, will interview German political leaders and visit their headquarters in one of the two phases of her study, the relationship of internal politics to Germany's foreign policy. In this she will determine the effect of recent events upon Germany's attitude to the rest of the world. German women's civic activities will be the other phase of her study. Her information will be used for lectures and articles upon her return to the United States.

City Quick To Send Relief To People Of Stricken Area

supplies only on definite requests from authoritative sources to avoid confusion and duplication. Committees appointed are as follows: Cooked food, Miss Edna Green, Mrs. E. E. Bacon, Mrs. Agnes Tyree and Mrs. Edith Woodruff. They are to be called on for any emergency, fire, flood or earthquake, to furnish emergency rations.

Transportation: Samuel L. Graham, chairman. He and his assistants have prepared a list of all available cars and trucks for volunteer service, both by night and day.

Housing: Mrs. J. O. Smith and Mrs. Mary Wambeck. This committee is making a survey of the entire city and will prepare a detailed list of all available shelters for refugees.

First Aid: W. D. Richards, chairman. In addition to the very capable first aid crew of the fire department, that did yeoman service in this emergency, Chief Richards will be prepared to mobilize all citizens who have had first aid training.

Policing and Property Protection: Ray O. Calkin, chairman. The Legion and Boy Scouts will cooperate and supplement regular police authorities.

First Aid Supplies: Mrs. Harry Holland, chairman.

Finance: J. S. Billheimer, president of the Chamber of Commerce, chairman, and C. W. Jones, treasurer.

Additional committees will be developed as the organization gets running.

Within an hour after the preliminary meeting adjourned a call for sandwiches and other food for Lynwood was received. This call came directly to Sierra Madre from the Los Angeles Red Cross and was for a specific purpose. Surgical dressings were also asked for.

The two committees were in action at once, the food being prepared at the Woman's Club and the dressings in the City Hall. In three hours the supplies were delivered. The food for Lynwood was duplicated, on request on Tuesday. There has been no further request for supplies of any kind, but the committee is holding some food in reserve for an emergency call.

Mrs. Wright stated today: "I wish to express my very great appreciation of and admiration for the hearty cooperation from every one and every organization and the citizens. The heart of Sierra Madre responded generously to the need."

Miss Marion Vannier, president of the Sierra Madre Red Cross Chapter said to the reporter: "Our big task now is to raise our part of the money needed for rehabilitation work. The Red Cross Division Office in San Francisco allotted this city a quota of $1000."

"The local Red Cross officials, after consultation with some of our representative citizens, have asked that this quota be reduced. In view of the fact that many of our citizens will sustain financial loss through damage to their beach properties, that a large number of refugees, relatives and friends are being cared for in homes here, and that, being so close to the disaster, large quantities of supplies were rushed to the stricken area within a few hours after the quake, we feel the amount asked could not be raised.

"Sierra Madre has never fallen down on a relief quota, frequently it has been doubled. We prefer to accept a smaller quota and exceed it, if possible, than to promise something we could not fulfill."

"We want every man, woman and child in Sierra Madre to help, however small the amount. We want the fund we raise to come from all our people. The boy or girl who passes up candy or a cone and brings us the nickel, shows that he or she feels sorry for the boys and girls who have lost their homes and their belongings."

"No contribution is too small if it is the best the given can do; and no contribution will be barred because it is too big! The bigger the better! But we hope all the people in this city will participate."

Devise System To Increase Interest In Boy Scout Work

By Bill Hansen

With a prize of a Scout ax or Scout knife to lead them on, the Scouts of Troop 1, under Bill Morgan, are sprucing up in appearance and conduct.

Mr. Morgan, believing it will stimulate interest, devised a system of points to be given for wearing the Scout uniform, paying dues on time, good conduct, no tardiness at meetings and for giving special talks. For passing a test, 10 points will be given and for raising in rank, 50.

The tally will not just grow, but points will be taken off for disorderly conduct and for arriving late to meetings.

At the end of eight weeks the high point man will receive the prize.

Saturday, March 25, with a weiner bake and games before them, Troop 1 Scouts will meet downtown for a discussion of the sports to be had and then go to Bailey Canyon Park for their fun.
